RUSHING WORK ON TOWN IMPROVEMENTS.

A LOT OF WORK TO BE DONE BEFORE SNOW FLIES.

—READY FOR THE CONVENTIONS—

LOCAL NOTES.

Amid the rust and hubbub incident to the Westchester County Fair, the work of pushing forward public improvements has been steadily advancing in all directions. Costello & Naegle have been arranging to begin work in earnest on Monday on the paving of Railroad-ave. All the week a stone crusher has been crushing the rocky bowlders in the hills adjacent to St. Mary's Lake for concreting purposes. Teamsters have been employed, and the laboring interests in the village will be fairly well taken care of during the next two months. Thomas F. Hart, who has a contract for the grading of Martine-ave., Mamaroneck-ave., Lexington-ave. and Grove-st., is advancing his contracts. Grove-st. has been graded. Martine-ave. will be completed this evening, and the grading of Mamaroneck-ave. will begin at once. The grading, where completed makes a big improvement in the thoroughfares. Particularly is this so in Martine-ave., where the low ground between Brookfield- and Grove-st. has been filled in to a depth of three feet without any injury to property. Sidewalks have been laid the length of the avenue, and where formerly pedestrians in the southerly section of the village had to wade through mud during the spring and winter months to reach the station for New-York, now all is changed.

Next week the town will be given over to politicians from all sections of the county, as the county conventions of both the Republican and Democratic parties will be held here and the best men in the ranks will be placed in nomination for the suffrages of the people. The Republican County Convention will be held in St. John's Hall on Tuesday at 11 a.m., and on Wednesday the Democrats will assemble at the same place to put forward their best candidates. The campaign promises to be a lively one.

YONKERS.

SOME INTERESTING FIGURES REGARDING THE SCHOOLS.

TRouble OVER THE NEPPERHAN RIVER—WATER BECOMING SCARCE—NOTES OF LOCAL INTEREST.

The annual report of the Yonkers Board of Education, which was adopted this week, contains much interesting information. During the year the Board has had under its control ten schools and five classrooms in hired quarters outside. The schools were in session 181 days. The number of children in the city between five and sixteen years of age, according to the census taken by the Board early in the year, was found to be 7,623. The total registration in the several schools was 5,610 children, with an average attendance of 3,698. Evening schools were in session at the John M. Mason school, seventy-seven nights, and at the Elckerlyc School, seventy-three nights, with an average attendance at both schools of 214. An evening class for mechanical drawing was in session sixty-four nights in the High School, at which the attendance was good and the interest manifested pleasing. A school of domestic science, at which cooking was taught, was conducted during the year on the top floor of the Woman's Institute Building, in Palisade-ave. This branch was attended by 189 girls once a week during the school term. The truant officer made 42 visits to the schools, 78 visits to parents and 10 arrests. For more than a year the experiment of vertical writing has been made in the John M. Mason School. Its hygienic advantages and its uniform legibility have led the Board, at the suggestion of Superintendent Gorton, to adopt it in all the schools below the eighth grade. A site for a school to accommodate the children in the neighborhood of Woodlawn Park has been secured; plans have been adopted for the new building, and contracts for its erection will soon be awarded. On Monday the new school (No. 10) at Clinton and Prospect sts. was opened, and 49 scholars marched into the building at 9 o'clock. The opening of this school relieves the lower grades of the High School, and schools Nos. 2 and 6. Miss Lucy A. Earle has been appointed principal, and the teachers assigned to the school are Mrs. Laura B. Anderson and the Misses Gertrude Davis, Cora I. Pultz, Mary E. Oshlafan, Elizabeth M. Furey, A. F. Ryan, Grace M. Horton, Alice Skipper, Hertha Smith and Sarah E. Fisher. In closing his report President Nishels says: "It hardly seems possible to build schoolhouses rapidly enough to keep pace with the annual increase of scholars, which now amounts to about three hundred—enough to fill six classrooms." The expense of maintaining the schools last year was $129,600.

The Nepperhan River, which flows through the heart of the city, is again engaging the attention of the Board of Health. During the month a number of men were employed, and the river was cleaned of all rubbish and filth for several hundred feet between New-Broadway and Palisade-ave. A few days afterward, when an inspection was made, it was found that people were dumping rubbish into it as before. In view of the difficulty of preventing the stream from being polluted by persons who live over and under the Wall Street Office, strongly urges that the stream be walled in and covered.

The continued dry weather has made the water question a serious one in this city. The Grassy Spain Reservoir, from which the supply has been lower now than it has ever been since it was put into use, the Water Commissioners have made an arrangement with the managers of the New-Rochelle Waterworks to furnish from 16,000,000 to 18,000,000 gallons of water per day. This arrangement is to last until the arrival of the new reservoir, which is to be completed in November.
